

AUGUST 2019

SDG Platform Data Report

About SDGs

The Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) are part of the New Development Agenda created by the United Nations in September of 2015. These 17 Goals go through the work of the Organizations of Civil Society, States, and Citizenship in the 2015-2030 Agenda. The New Agenda introduces an integral glance into the entire human development process, to achieve more just societies, as long as they are more democratic and participatory.

To reach the SDGs, it is critical to understand the importance of working in these subject areas in an articulate and multidisciplinary manner so that the fulfilled efforts result in a larger impact and growth.

SDG Platform

RACI created the SDG platform in August, 2017 with the support of Cablevision and the United Nations.

The objective: To democratize information regarding the work done by Civil Society Organizations (CSOs) in the country and make it visible in front of the eyes of key actors who will strengthen the initiatives on the Platform.
